Business lunches are not what they used to be, and even power breakfasts are waning, but meeting face-to-face and sharing a meal with someone with whom you're interested in doing business is still a good idea. Talking business while dining has a different feel than a scheduled meeting in the office. It is less formal and constraining. Conversation and creative thoughts flow more freely, and much is revealed about a person's character in the simple process of ordering, eating, and paying for the meal. How long does it take the person to order? What's his or her treatment of the wait staff? What manners does he or she display while eating? How does the bill get settled?

Like Jesus, each of us is revealed in the breaking of the bread. Make sure you are comfortable with what others will see in you at a shared meal, and don't risk doing business-as-a-partner, an employer, or employee-with someone incapable of showing common courtesy to a waiter, talks with a mouth full of food, or skimps on a tip. Nine times out of ten, you'll end up choking on the deal.

Divine Mercy Sunday

April 8, 2018

The message of The Divine Mercy is simple. It is that God loves us - all of us. And, he wants us to recognize that His mercy is greater than our sins, so that we will call upon Him with trust, receive His mercy, and let it flow through us to others. Thus, all will come to share His joy.

Join in celebrating Divine Mercy Sunday, April 8th, with an hour of Adoration and Reconciliation from 2:00 to 3:00pm at Sacred Heart Church in Boone.
